3-16-2020 - For immediate release:

Because of the national emergency caused by the COVID-19 virus, CJAM will cease holding in-person meetings until April 6, at which time the situation will be re-evaluated. Until that time, the CJAM office will be closed and all upcoming in-person client meetings have been cancelled for the coming three weeks. The in-person meetings will be rescheduled once it is safe to do so. CJAM will continue to take referrals, and each case will be handled individually, with phone or video conferencing offered when appropriate or as available. To request services, refer a client, or ask a question, please email admin@cjamcenter.org or call our office at (812) 336-8677 and leave a message.

About CJAM

The Community Justice and Mediation Center (CJAM) has been a vital part of the Bloomington and Monroe County community for over 25 years. CJAM is a 501(c)3 and exists to promote a civil and just community through mediation, education, facilitation and restorative justice. Annually, CJAM staff and volunteer mediators serve over 400 people, helping them resolve disputes, heal relationships, and move forward in the wake of conflict. They work to ensure that Monroe County is a community that learns from conflict, prevents harm and grows in understanding.
